The reality of Cybercrimes for Local & Regional Enterprises

Wednesday, 27 September 2017, 5.00 pm – 6.30 pm

RPC Premier Law, 12 Marina Boulevard, #38-04 MBFC Tower 3, Singapore 018982

About the speaker, Owen M. Hawkes from KMPG Singapore

Owen is a Partner in KPMG. He leads the Dispute Advisory Services practice and has substantial experience in litigation and regulatory investigation. He has both accounting and legal qualifications and has been involved in numerous dispute advisory engagements as expert and as a team lead.

Prior to joining KPMG in Singapore, Owen practiced as a barrister then spent six years at the United Kingdom's Serious Fraud Office, appearing in court on behalf of the Crown and as a witness. He is listed in Who's Who Legal as a leading Asset Recovery and Expert Witness accountant.

About this Seminar:

Cyber-crime is the current focus of attention in the media, following a number of highly publicised cyber-crimes. However, outside these headline-makers, what is the reality of cyber-crime for local and regional enterprises? Join us for a talk based on case studies of three recent local investigations covering some of the most common cyber-crimes: "CEO" fraud, "Man in the middle" attacks, Ransomware. The speaker will look at what enabled the attacks to occur, how losses were incurred and where cyber-crime and fraud loss insurance could have played a role in ensuring an effective response and recovery of losses. He will also touch on the measures organisations should consider to protect themselves from such losses.
